

The Questions

1. Is technological advancement minimizing our privacy?
2. Can a dystopian setting influence a human into forgetting their human rights?
3. Does the ability to think for oneself define a soul? Can a soul exist without thought?

